

"Dressy" Laundering.

Yes, it's as necessary to wear linen of correct and immaculate appearance as it is to have a dress suit or a silk hat. And it's necessary to send your linen to Frazee to get just the proper finish.

It's a shame for you to let your linen be maltreated by poor laundering. To begin with we use filtered water (no muddy Potomac water), pure soap and skilled labor. We iron "dress shirts," collars and cuffs with the society finish—a pure soft and lusterless white. And we charge no higher prices for modern twentieth century laundry work.

Why not change today and let us call for your bundle? Drop us a postal or 'phone 592.

Hair-Health

Most people are gray—or worse—their hair fades, breaks off, or falls out before it should. The young woman of forty sees the first stealing into her hair, or else it is losing its fresh look, or growing thin, short or faded, and she is showing signs of aging before her time. This should not be.

Hartina is a hair food, nourishing the roots, forcing new growth, restoring freshness and beauty, and positively turning the GRAY HAIR BACK TO ITS YOUTHFUL COLOR. NOT A DYE. Does not soil scalp or clothing; is not greasy or sticky; does not rub off.

Hartina SOAP For the Bath. Always find it has healing and refreshing properties not possessed by other soaps, being made from specially medicated vegetable oils and balsams and entirely free from noxious ingredients present in other soaps. Its great merit is its absolute power over germs of contagion and diseases. Use it freely and be safe from these dangers. It keeps the pores healthy and makes the skin smooth and rosy. It beautifies the skin of infants and children, and is unequalled for cleansing the scalp and making the hair shine. Always use it for pimples, tan, chafing, rough hands, etc.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Centennial Anniversary of His Death to Be Celebrated.

IMPRESSIVE MASONIC CEREMONIES

Exercises at Mount Vernon, in Alexandria and This City.

RED MEN'S PLANS

One hundred years since the death of the illustrious George Washington will have elapsed with the dawn of next Thursday, December 14. And on that day the people of a mighty country made possible through the efforts and deeds of the valiant, liberty-loving revolutionary leader and first President, will unite in a tribute of sincerest reverence and honor to his memory. There will be a solemn observance of the occasion in almost every city, town and hamlet of the confederation of states founded by Washington.

In the eternal fitness of things it is proper that the greatest ceremonies of tribute should be held at the home and tomb of the commander and statesman who, during his life, was accorded the homage, not only of his own nation, but of the world. Elaborate plans have been made for Thursday's events at Mount Vernon. These include an address by Washington's twenty-fifth successor in office, President William McKinley. The President will be accompanied by several members of his cabinet, and his speech will be the crowning feature of the memorial services arranged by the Grand Lodge of Masons of Virginia and the District of Columbia. The Masons will take boats at the 7th street wharf in this city and at Alexandria, about 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and it is expected that the ceremonies at Mount Vernon will begin promptly at 11.

Services at Mt. Vernon. While the Masonic celebration will occupy the morning and noon hour at Mount Vernon, there will be a second series of services at that historic place in the afternoon, when the historic planned by the Grand Council of the Improved Order of Red Men will be carried out. Altogether the day will be a memorable one at the Washington tomb. The details of the services at Mount Vernon and in this city will not be completed until early next week, when the official program will be issued. The general plans include a meeting of the Grand Lodge of Virginia, F. A. A. M., Wednesday evening, December 13, at Alexandria, the guests of the occasion being entertained by Alexandria-Washington Lodge, No. 22, of which George Washington was a member. Col. Robert White of Wheeling, W. Va., assigned chief marshal of the ceremony, will take charge of the Washington city program Thursday morning, which contemplates the assembling of all of the Masons

J. H. Small, Jr., Grand Master District of Columbia.

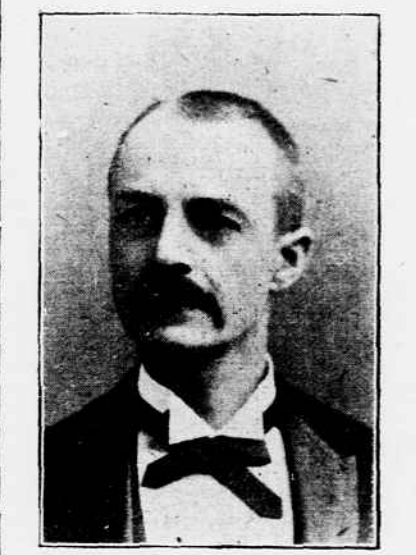

In the city at the Ebbitt House at 8:30 o'clock, and a parade down Pennsylvania avenue to 7th street and by way of the latter thoroughfare to the Potomac steam boats. The Masons of Virginia, the District, West Virginia, and other states will gather on the Wharf at Mount Vernon and will proceed in solemn line over the route followed by the Washington funeral cortege of a century ago. The old tomb there will be a brief Masonic ceremony, the same being the case at the new tomb, where the caskets of George and Martha Washington now repose. With the completion of these sacred rites the Masons will proceed to the mansion, where the main services are to be held.

President McKinley will be introduced by Mr. R. T. W. Duke, grand master Mason of Virginia. The President will journey to

INTERIOR OF WASHINGTON ALEXANDRIA LODGE.

Mount Vernon on the electric cars. It is expected that a great crowd will be assembled there, as assurances have been received from about fifty lodges, throughout the United States, England, Canada and Nova Scotia that delegations would be present. In addition to the hundreds of Masons the general public will probably attend in great numbers. The booming of cannon and appropriate music of solemn theme rendered by a military band will add to the impressiveness of the ceremonies. Guns from Fort Washington will send their noisy tribute to the honored dead across the famous old Potomac. In as many respects as possible the anniversary ceremonies of next Thursday will be patterned after the obsequies of one hundred years ago. Prayers will be offered at the old and new tombs and the impressive rites of the Masonic burial service gone through. It is expected that representatives from the thirteen original states will make brief responses to the address delivered by the grand master of Masons of Colorado at the new tomb.

A Tribute From Abroad.

During the Masonic services at Mount Vernon a wreath of oaks and evergreen from Lonsborough Park, East Yorkshire, England, will be placed at the tomb. This pretty tribute comes from the Earl of Lonsborough, the past grand senior warden of Masons in England, and officers of Constitutional Lodge No. 284 of Beverly, East Yorkshire. The wreath comes from the vicinity of the home of John Washington, in England, founder of the family that has become famous. A poem, written by the Hon. Richard Wilson, chaplain to the Earl of Lonsborough and canon of York, has been received and will be read at the tomb.

The Prince of Wales, master of Masons in England, was invited to be present, but could not arrange his affairs satisfactorily to make the journey. He has sent his kind regards to the Masons and written his regret at his inability to take part in the ceremonies. The prince has sent the committee his latest photograph, with autograph, for publication in the book that will be issued in connection with the forthcoming celebration.

A reception at Willard's Hotel in this city will conclude the program of the Masons for the anniversary day.

The Red Men's Plans.

The Grand Council of the Improved Order of Red Men of the United States has made arrangements for an appropriate celebration of the anniversary of Washington's death. Their ceremonies at Mount Vernon will take place in the afternoon of Thursday next, so as not to conflict with the Masons in their exercises. It is expected that Senator Chauncey M. Depew will deliver an address on that occasion.

The Red Men will also hold a memorial meeting Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Convention Hall, to which the President and the members of his cabinet have been invited, as well as members of both houses of Congress. Great orator George E. Greedy will preside and make the opening address. Remarks will be made by great chiefs of the order and a musical program rendered by the United States Marine Band, and the Arion Singing Society.

The George Washington Memorial Association will hold an important and interesting memorial meeting Thursday evening. The idea of arranging for an international Masonic tribute to the memory of Washington was suggested by the Grand Lodge of Virginia and the District of Columbia unite in carrying forth the plans. The arrangements are being completed here, in Alexandria and in Richmond, and until all of those having matters connected with the celebration in charge report, the final program cannot be announced. Centennial memorial committees were appointed by both grand lodges and the members of these have been active in their work.

Masonic Officers. The District Grand Lodge has the following officers: J. H. Small, Jr., grand master; W. C. Henderson, deputy grand master; Harry Standford, senior grand warden; Malcolm Seaton, junior grand warden, and William R. Singleton, grand secretary.

A handsome memorial volume, combined with which will be the official program, is in the hands of George T. Parker & Co., with offices in the Stewart building, for publication. The volume will give a succinct history of the progress of Masonry in the United States during the past century. It will contain a portrait of Washington never before published and many views connected with the early life of the great general. The story of the entrance of President McKinley into Masonry will be told, the picture of the Prince of Wales, just received, and many other important ones, will make the volume exceptionally interesting and valuable.

Tickets for the exercises at Mount Vernon will be on sale at the library rooms of Masonic Temple and with the cashier of the Ebbitt House.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Makes nerve fiber, nerve force and muscle. The body is made healthy, able to endure the rack upon nerves from overwork and care, and withstand exposure to severe weather and prevailing disease.

Rev. C. M. C. Cook, Mt. Pleasant, Mich., writes:

"I have used Paine's Celery Compound for nervous prostration which was so complete as to entirely unfit me for any business or work. I am now nearly 59 years old and am attending to my pastoral duties for a growing church. I have as much mental and physical strength as I ever had and never did more work than I am doing now."

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND IS A GREAT RECONSTRUCTANT.

Grand Marshal White of West Virginia will have the following staff: Harry Standford, assistant grand marshal; Harry H. Sands, Edgar Warfield, Sr., James Purke Corbin, S. R. Donohoe, Harry Hodges and Ed. S. Conrad.

A God-sent Blessing. Mr. B. F. Wood was a great sufferer from Organic Heart Disease. He never expected to be well again, but Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart was his good angel, and he lives today to tell it to others, hear him: "I was for fifteen years a great sufferer from Heart Disease, had swooning spells, palpitation, pain in left side and swollen ankles. Twenty physicians treated me, but I got no relief. I used Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. One dose relieved the inside of thirty minutes. Spoons better came me." Sold by F. S. WILLIAMS, 6th and F sts. EDMONDS & WILLIAMS, 3d and Pa. ave.
